

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

One of the major components of the present invention is to provide a process to facilitate the fulfillment of drug samples to prescribers in several different manners. With the present invention, a prescriber can request actual drug samples on-line or can order
5 on-line coupons for drug samples to be given to patients who in turn go to a pharmacy to obtain the free medications. As a third alternative, the prescriber can print the coupons in his own office to give to patients who in turn redeem the coupons for free medications at a pharmacy.
